

GRAVITY DEFINED

Copyright Oct. 2021 Ken L. Wheeler

1. Gravity is not a force, rather the acceleration to the homeostasis of highest inertia, or lowest Aether torsion. The phenomena called gravity is the reaction of the Aether, the medium, to the ultra high-energy light dynamos, simplex or accumulated, corresponding to what is conventionally called matter.
2. Gravity is an anti-field, but incorrectly assumed a field due to acceleration and mutual mass interactions & observations of same. A field by definition is an Aether perturbation modality; the dielectric being the Aether under stress & torsion, the magnetic being the dielectric under the state of loss of energy/inertia to the medium (or field) system as manifesting the fundamental centrifugal toroidal force vector of expanding magnitude and its corresponding attributes (space, time, mass etc.).
3. Matter & masses do not accelerate towards one another; gravity is not a property of either matter, or the masses composed of compounded matter. All matter, be it simplex or compounded, is ultra high-energy light and as such ultra high-energy dielectric dynamos that necessitatively induce current in the Aether, or Medium as such. This induction circuit inherent to the nature of matter generates the attributional impulse current of the Aether and movement of matter, or the phenomena called gravity.
4. All light rebounds in its coaxial circuit, manifesting and de-manifesting as the perturbation propagates itself in its own medium, the Aether, as such. Matter as such being ultra high-energy light mutually accelerates towards the lowest null pressure in counterspace, just as the EMR circuit of light rebounds in its cycle (or frequency) at the force dissipation of the magneto-dielectric geometry as lights circuit is cycled and exhausted as such over & over again, as meaning the frequency of the circuit field compound phenomena so deemed 'light'. Matter, being ultra high-energy light as such, rebounds mutually towards counterspace due to its generation of an impulse current in the Aether and its resultant strain-phenomena, or torsion as such. This can be conventionally called the induction towards inertia homeostasis.
5. The phenomena called gravity is neither the warping of space (an impossible, likewise deemed same by Tesla) or the curvature of space & or time. This illogical absurdity was birthed by Atomists & Relativists as a necessary resultant to create a new medium after the dismissal of the Natural-Order of the only actual medium of Nature, that being the Aether.
6. The phenomena called gravity is entirely identical to the phenomena incorrectly deemed 'magnetic attraction' and likewise identical to the phenomena deemed 'electrostatic cling'. These phenomena are only individuated in and by lesser minds & resultant to these having the attributional nuances of being either point-source (magnet) or non-point-source, i.e. incoherent induction to the Aether-Inertia homeostasis, as in the case of conventional matter's mutual acceleration.
7. Charge disparity in the case of 'static cling' is a spatial disparity of charge polarization, likewise too, mutual magnet acceleration (incorrectly called 'magnetic attraction', which is not magnetism whatsoever) is a spatial disparity of charge polarization or Aether impulse current torsion, in that case being point source polarization and therefore a compounded multiplicative order of power over that of 'static cling' and the phenomena called gravity relational to conventional matter.
8. Just as lighting is not a ground to cloud or cloud to ground energy phenomena, rather a lateral discharge into counterspace, so too the phenomena called gravity is the impulse current of the Aether by simplex or compounded matter, these ultra high-energy dielectric dynamos in their motions (anti-spatial) towards counterspace that are induced and impelled by the Aether. This movement of matter is not mutually induced by the matter itself rather by the Aether, the medium's induction towards inertia-homeostasis.
9. The impulse current between matter is the property of the Aether, the medium, not the matter itself, which explains away all confusions on and about the phenomena called gravity, these ultra high-energy dynamos, being ultra high-energy light as such, create the impulse current of the Aether in response and the mutual acceleration towards counterspace. The phenomena called gravity is the acceleration-erasure of the curvilinear or toroidal torsion of any and all magnetic effects of inertia-rarefaction, which magnetism is by definition. This fact was proven by Oliver Heaviside as to the role of magnetism in the phenomena called gravity in his obscure article "A Gravitational and Electromagnetic Analogy".
10. It has been said that Nature abhors a vacuum, rather correctly it should be said that Nature abhors Aether/Inertia-rarefaction, which generates the magneto-toroidal disparity and resultant impulse current, which drives the mutual masses towards counterspace and inertia homeostasis. The final resultant of gravity is the zero-sum gain in the homeostasis of inertia/Aether-potential, increasing said potential to a net-zero anti-vector (i.e. inertia stasis), or a total Aether torsion-null, as meant a total absence of force & motion.
